we highly recommend that people stay away from it.
whether or not news of the latest study may lead to future victims remains to be seen radiologic features unique to each type of tumor may be helpful, but the only possible absolute confirmation is by pathologic examination of the surgical specimen.